FOREWORD

It is with great regret that I have to announce the dispersion of Hood & Little, Guy S. Little and Melvin Ruck herds. It is only because of a change in farming operations that this dispersal is necessary. These herds have been in existence for a number of years and their contribution to breed progress has been great. They have been consignors to South Central Illinois Ass'n breed and calf sales for a number of years and have sold many good animals in these sales.

I have seen these cattle many times and have recently inspected them. I'm sure you will be impressed with the size, thickness, and beefiness of these animals. Their health is excellent and only those cows that have been regular producers have been retained in the herds.

Every female that is of breeding age has been pregnancy tested and the footnotes tell the approximate breeding dates.

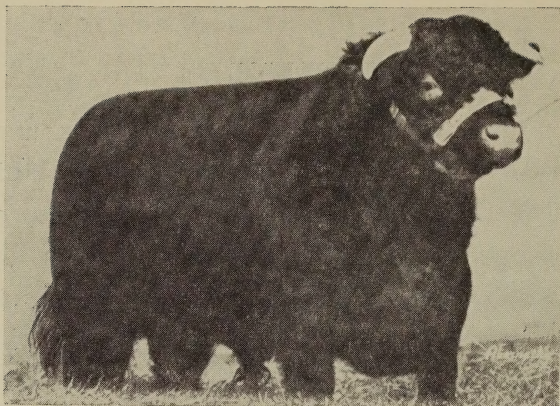

For anyone needing good females to add to his herd, don't miss this sale.

LUCKTON MAX COMET — The sire of many cattle in this sale as well as service sire on many more. One-third interest in this bull was sold over one year ago to the Southern Illinois Breeders Coop. where his semen is now on offer. This bull has sired many steers that have won their classes at the county fairs, the Illinois State Fair, and have stood well up in class at the International. You will be impressed by the thickness and beefiness of his calves. Many of you, who have seen this great, white, ten-year-old bull, have been as impressed as I have by his size, bone, correctness of legs and smoothness of fleshing. His weight in normal breeding condition is 1800 lbs. and he is as sound at 10 years of age as most of the bulls half his age.

He was purchased as one of the tops in the 1956 Illinois State Sale and has been in use in the herd ever since. The results are evident — just look over his progeny.
